LECTURES BY JOHN CAGE

Statement re: Ives (1966)

Interview re: Bach (with Anne Gibson) (1984)

Mushrooms (1983)

The first two are transcriptions in proportional notation of recorded CBC materials. An attempt was made to notate several characteristics of unpremeditated speech: pauses, nonlinguistic sounds (e.g., uh, e), the beginnings of words that are not completed, etc. In both cases I had remembered making a recording that was "good", but when I read conventional transcripts of each I was disappointed. When the imperfections in speech brought about by thinking while talking were incorporated in the transcription something of the feeling that the ideas had been well expressed returned.

Mushrooms is the "theme" of MUSHROOMS et Variations. They are mesostics on the Latin names of twelve fungi. This is a nonsyntactic renga-like text, part of a continuing search for a way of writing which though coming from ideas is not about them, or is not about ideas but produces them. In this case five mesostic texts were written on the name of each mushroom. Then I Ching chance operations were used to answer the question with respect to each line "Which of the five is to be used?"

JAMES TENNEY

JAMES TENNEY was born in 1934 in Silver City, New Mexico, and grew up in Arizona and Colorado, where he received his earliest musical training as a pianist and composer. He attended the University of Denver, the Juilliard School of Music, Bennington College (B.A. 1958) and the University of Illinois, where he received his Master's Degree in 1961. His teachers have included Eduard Steuermann, Chou Wen-Chung, Lionel Nowak, Carl Ruggles, Lejaren Hiller, Kenneth Gaburo, and Edgard Varèse. In the early 1960's he was active in the field of electronic and computer music, working with Max Mathews and others at the Bell Telephone Laboratories in the development of programs for computer sound-generation and composition. Long active as a performer and theorist as well as a composer, he was co-founder and conductor of the "Tone Roads Chamber Ensemble" in New York (1963-70), and has performed with ensembles of Harry Partch (The Bewitched, 1960), John Cage, and Steve Reich. He has composed over 70 works for a variety of media, and is the author of numerous articles on musical acoustics, computer music, musical form and perception. He has received grants and awards from the National Science Foundation, the National Endowment for the Arts, the Ontario Arts Council, the American Academy and Institute of Arts and Letters, and the Fromm Foundation. He has taught at the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, the California Institute of the Arts, and the University of California, and is currently Professor of Music at York University.

CHANGES (cont'd)

Each study is associated "synchronistically" (in Jung's sense of this term) with one of the hexagrams in the I Ching — the ancient Chinese Book of Changes. The harps are tuned a sixth of a semitone apart, providing 72 different pitches in each octave. These include very close approximations of all the important just intervals within the 11-limit (i.e. intervals whose frequency ratios involve no prime numbers larger than 11), and the work explores certain new aspects of harmony made possible by this tuning system.

STRING QUARTET No. 5

STRING QUARTET No. 5 was originally composed in 1979 for the Concord Quartet, however they did not perform it. Several years later, I was asked for a premiere for a retrospective concert sponsored by the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. I asked permission of the Concord Quartet to allow another quartet (which is the Tremont Quartet) to perform it. In return I promised them my seventh Quartet, which they have.

The STRING QUARTET No. 5 was premiered in 1983. It is based on an Appalachian folk hymn, Lonesome Valley. The work, like most of my works, is in a system which I call extended just intonation. This involves microtones and consequently many new performance practices. This particular work is based on the overtones 8 through 16 and an inversion of this 5th sequence.

JOHN CAGE

JOHN CAGE was born in Los Angeles in 1912. He studied with Richard Buhlig, Henry Cowell, Adolph Weiss, and Arnold Schoenberg. In 1949 he received a Guggenheim Fellowship and an Award from the National Academy of Arts and Letters for having extended the boundaries of music through his work with percussion orchestra and his invention of the prepared piano (1940). In 1951 he organized a group of musicians and engineers to make music on magnetic tape. In 1952, at Black Mountain College he presented a theatrical event considered by many to have been the first Happening. A twenty-five year retrospective concert of his compositions was presented at Town Hall in 1958.

He is musical advisor for the Merce Cunningham Dance Company, having been associated with Merce Cunningham since 1943. CAGE was elected to the Institute of Arts and Letters in 1968, and to the American Academy of Arts and Sciences

POSTCARD FROM HEAVEN

Postcard from Heaven was written for a concert at the Walker Art Center in Minneapolis. It is for 1 - 20 harps. The title refers to the popular notion that harps are frequently played "up above". I have given both "raga" and "tala" like materials to each harpist asking them to improvise on "scales" that ascend in one way and descend in another.

Competition for Young Composers

In 1986 P.R.O. Canada will present $8,000 in prizes to the winners of its eighth annual Young Composers Competition. Composers under 30 are invited to submit works in categories for orchestra, solo instrument or chamber ensemble, voice, and electronic and computer music.

Many works that have won P.R.O. Canada prizes in the past have since been acclaimed elsewhere and we are proud to have been able to bring recognition where it is due:

- GLENN BUHR's Beren and Luthién (1984 winner) received its premiere September 11 in a performance by the Toronto Symphony.
- JOHN BURKE's À la Source d'Hypocrène (1981 winner) received its premiere by Montreal's Société de musique contemporaine ensemble (a performance later released on the RCI label), and was heard again in 1985 in a performance by Toronto's New Music Concerts.
- FRANCIS CHAN's Yeh-Pan Yueh (1979 winner) was described by The New Yorker, following a 1981 New York performance by the University of Indiana's New Music Ensemble, as "the concert's most alluring piece."

- JAN JARVLEPP's Time Zones (1982 winner) received its premiere by Toronto's New Music Concerts in 1984.
- JOHN OLIVER's Fall (1982 winner) received its premiere by New Music Concerts in 1982.
- JEAN PICHÉ's Angé (1980 winner) has since been recorded on Melbourne Records.
- ROBERT ROSEN's From Silence (1983 winner) received its premiere that same year by the Calgary Philharmonic Orchestra.
- DOUGLAS GARTH SCHMIDT's Orenda (Dream Spirit) (1983 winner) also won him first prize in the 1983 Okanagan Music Festival for Composers; his Music for Pennywhistle, Accordion and Mandolin (1984 winner) was heard during the Vancouver regional meeting of the American Society of University Composers last year.
- TIMOTHY SULLIVAN's Scherzo Brillante (1979 honorable mention) has since been recorded by John Torcello on California's Digital Audiophile label.

Deadline for entries is April 30. Call or write us for an application:
